

From Copenhagen Airport to Scandic Triangeln

To reach the Scandic Triangeln hotel you have two convenient options:

1. By Train from Copenhagen Airport (CPH) to Malmö Triangeln (advised)

- From Copenhagen Airport (Københavns Lufthavn) Station, you take a train operated by Öresundståg (also written as Øresundståg in Danish).
- These are regional trains that run between Denmark and southern Sweden across the Øresund Bridge.
- There is no specific train number, but you can identify them easily: the destination will show as one of the following on the departure boards:
 - “Malmö C” (Malmö Central)
 - “Helsingborg”
 - “Karlskrona”
 - “Kalmar”
 - “Gothenburg (Göteborg)”
- All of these stop at Malmö Triangeln station, which is your stop for the hotel Scandic Triangeln.
- The direction you want is toward Sweden / Malmö.
- Trains depart roughly every 20 minutes during the day.
- Travel time: about 22–25 minutes.
- Tickets will cost around € 15,- for one-way and can be bought from:
 - Ticket machines at the airport station
 - The DSB app (Danish State Railways)
 - The Skånetrafiken app (Swedish regional transport)

2. By Taxi

- Exit the arrivals area at Copenhagen Airport and locate the official taxi stands
- Taxi option: You can take a regular taxi directly to the Scandic Triangeln. The fare is about €100,- and will take 25 to 40 minutes depending on traffic.
- Good to know: Unfortunately, Uber is not available in Copenhagen/the Danish part of the route, so ordering Uber from Copenhagen Airport across the border is not reliable. Returning from Malmö to Copenhagen, you can order an Uber.
- Taxi rides are expensive because the route crosses the border (Denmark → Sweden) and involves the Øresund Bridge toll, plus airport taxi surcharges. Fares may vary depending on the time you are travelling.
